U. N. Now Seeking Means To Provide Jerusalem Peace

Only Eight Days Until British Will Lay Down Mandate

MAYOR IS SOUGHT FOR HOLY CITY

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., May 7.—The United Nations today sought effective measures to assure peace in Jerusalem when the British lay down the mandate, in only eight days time.

While the British cast about for a mayor for the Holy City who would be acceptable to both Arabs and Jews, the U. N.'s political committee meets to consider further suggestions for obtaining a truce.

Appointment of a mayor, decided on by the general assembly yesterday, is expected to do little more than enable essential administrative services to keep functioning.

Nations critical of U. N. inaction in the Palestine fighting succeeded in forcing consideration of firmer measures after a tense debate yesterday.

Only "Man Of Straw"

New Zealand's Sir Carl Berendson asserted that the mayor would be only a "man of straw," and demanded a firm policy: Poland expressed doubts about the legality of Britain, whose official Palestine functions end May 15, appointing anyone to serve in an administrative position after that time.

Nevertheless, possibility of stern action seemed remote. In approving recommendations of the trusteeship council, the U. N. apparently accepted the principle that nothing can be done to which both Jews and Arabs fail to agree.

Jews meanwhile pursued their planned course of preparing a separate state administration, to be proclaimed May 16.

With the apparent failure of United States trusteeship proposals to make any headway, and the lack of any new proposals, it seemed likely that the U. N. will make no move to prevent the proclamation.

Meanwhile, delegates awaited uneasily new developments in the Holy Land. Recurrent reports that the Arabs will invade Palestine after May 15 injected a note of anxiety, but failed to invoke preventive action.

Pa Newc Observes

Heavy rains of the past few days have brought some concern to maintenance crews of the State Highway Department Pa Newc learns. Several of the smaller streams have swollen beyond their banks and have lashed at a number of the county highways. Little Beaver creek has overflown several times on highway in the vicinity of Enon Valley. Patching work of the road crews has been hampered by the intermittent downpours.

Strong gales that prevailed throughout the early morning hours today while local residents attempted to sleep caused many residents to get little rest. Window panes rattled quite furiously in some homes with screens and other items being blown to the ground by the turbulent weather conditions.

It may seem a little hard to believe, but we had half an inch of snow a year ago today, followed by sub-freezing weather in the mornings for several days, the mercury to as low as 24 degrees on May 10, and 27 on May 11, and yet in spite of all this we had some fruit.

Rain and wet grounds caused the postponement of the New Castle-Butler Mid-Atlantic league opening baseball game here tonight. An effort will be made to open the season Saturday night, with the planned ceremonies.

Woman's Twelve Year Sleep Case Takes New Turn

WHITE PINE, Tenn., May 7.—(INS)—The strange case of Mrs. Clara Reynolds, 52, who "slept for 12 years" and then unexpectedly awakened, took a new turn today.

Dr. Jarret Williams, who has been treating Mrs. Reynolds, denied she was a victim of sleeping sickness. He said:

"It was definitely not sleeping sickness, as we know it. Her eyes have been open all along."

Dr. Williams termed her condition during the prolonged cataleptic state as "unresponsive" but his statement failed to clear up the mystery surrounding the trance.

Parliament Of Europe Urged By Churchill

THE HAGUE, May 7.—(INS)—Winston Churchill urged today the formation of a European organization to press for a "parliament of Europe".

Britian's war-time prime minister told delegates of 16 countries at the first congress of Europe:

"The task before us at this congress is not only to raise the voice of Europe as a united whole, but we must here now resolve, in one form or another, that a European assembly shall be constituted which will enable that voice to make itself continuously heard, with ever-growing acceptance, throughout all the free countries of Europe."

The congress, a gathering of European leaders who do not officially represent their countries, was called to lay the groundwork for a United States of Europe. Its goal is to preserve the economy and free way of life of western Europe.

The congress delegates, expected to total between 600 and 800, represent the western European nations which are participating in the Marshall aid plan for European recovery.

Inseparable Pals Meet Death Under Wheels of Train

Two Detroit Boys Attend Same School, Sang in Same Choir, Die Following Hike

DETROIT, May 7.—(INS)—Two youngsters who attended school together, were altar boys at the same church and shared experiences as inseparable pals, died last night under the wheels of a train.

The victims, 12-year-old George Lajtus, Jr., and 13-year-old Ernest Byar, Jr., both of Detroit, were returning home from a hike when they unwittingly stepped into the path of a speeding Pere Marquette passenger tain.

On Vacation Hike

The contents of the Boy Scout packs they wore littered the scene.

The boys, students in a Catholic school, were enjoying a day off from classes because it was a church holiday.

They received communion, then set out on a hike.

They began retracing their steps as dinner time approached, then detoured by way of a short-cut route across the tracks.

The youngsters watched a westbound freight train pass and, as it rumbled by they stepped into the path of an east-bound passenger train they apparently had not seen.

Jewish Haganah Army Captures Fort Atop Mount

Claims Capture Of Strategic Jodaphat Fortress In Northern Palestine

REPORT HAIFA IS NEARING NORMAL

By BENN FELLER
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

JERUSALEM, May 7.—The Jewish Haganah army claimed capture today of the strategic Jodaphat fortress atop Mount Canaan in a new drive to cement control of northern Palestine.

Haganah's announcement was accompanied by reports of a major shuffle in its high command in view of the organization's imminent emergence as the official Jewish army with proclamation of a Jewish state immediately after midnight May 16.

Drastic Changes

Drastic changes are expected to include replacement of the chief of staff and of many Palestine-trained Haganites by regular officers with experience in the second world war.

These will include former British veterans and members of the Jewish brigade and various European partisan armies.

Jodaphat fortress overlooks the town of Safad where, according to last reports by the Arabs, still resistance is being offered to Jewish attacks.

Seizure of the fortress is an important factor in the current northern fighting since whoever holds the peak commands a wide area.

Falls After Short Fight

Haganah said that Jodaphat fell to its troops after only a short fight with the Arab occupants. The Arabs reportedly fled to the east abandoning the fort and made their way across the Jordan River frontier.

Along the northern coastal area, Haganah's radio announced that Arab-Jewish relations in the port city of Haifa are returning to normal.

Haganah reported that Arab residents who evacuated the city during fighting in which Jews seized control now are returning in a steady stream.

The two holdup men fled in a blue sedan which police believe was driven by another member of the gang.

Resume Search In North Atlantic For Missing Fliers

Missing with the plane were Lewis Parker, veteran Dover, Mass., pilot, and Ralph Warnock, 27, Los Angeles. They were ferrying the plane to England for its owners, the Superior Oil company, of Washington, D. C.

ATC headquarters at Westover field announced that the search would be concluded today unless some trace of the fliers or the plane was found by the 10 rescue aircraft.

AGAINST ISSUE OF 7½ CENT NICKEL

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(INS)—A coin machine manufacturer spoke out today against proposals that the government issue a seven and a half cent nickel because such action would be "inflationary".

E. F. Pierson, president of the Vendo Coin Machine Company, suggested instead that the treasury department retain the value of the present nickel and mint a half cent piece.

New York officials, eyeing the new subway fare increases, and coin machine operators on the west coast, eyeing decreased revenues, have proposed that the nickel be revalued.

Pierson, in Washington with other manufacturers to discuss mutual problems, said that an increased five cent piece would "add to inflation instead of reducing it".

Pigeon Back After Nine Years Absence

Cleveland Pigeon Owner Gets Surprise When Bird Makes Re-appearance

CLEVELAND, May 7.—(INS)—'Pigeon A. U. 567 is home from the races, but she's not telling what happened since she took to the air some nine years back.

The pigeon, owned by William S. Wellman of Cleveland, is a red check colored hen of the renown Bricoux strain. The bird was entered in a 100-mile race nine years ago and what happened to her since probably never will be known.

William, in checking his pigeons, noted the newcomer occupying the same perch formerly owned by A. U. 567. Wellman, who has been flying birds for 33 years and has a record of every bird he ever owned, checked the band and found the entry in his books.

The A. U.—which stands for American Union—band is fixed for life on the pigeon's leg. Another band which was attached to the other leg for the race was gone when the wayward bird returned to her roost.

The improved nutritional value of the British diet in the face of obstacles is given the credit in the journal of the American Medical Association.

Speed Plans For Huge Air Force

Both Houses Of Congress Approve 70-Group Air Armada Project

By WILLIAM THEIS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The air force sped plans today for a 70-group air armada which now has overwhelming approval of both Houses of Congress.

The House and Senate recessed for the weekend without arranging a final conference to iron out minor differences but speedy final approval of the three billion dollar plane procurement measure was forecast once conferees are named.

74-2 Vote Approval

The Senate's resounding 74-2 passage of the 70-group air force removed last doubts that the 35,000 plane program will be carried through. It will provide 20,599 air force planes and 14,500 navy planes.

Only minor Senate changes, including a new contract renegotiation provision remain to be adjusted.

Air force procurement officers showed they are confident of White House approval by starting preparations for the immediate procurement of 2,727 new military planes. These include 243 bombers, 1,575 jet fighters and 909 reconnaissance, transport, training, liaison and rescue ships.

Meanwhile, members of the Senate Armed Services Committee said it might be "another week" before they can finish work on their draft-plus-military-training bill. The manpower legislation was scheduled for further closed-door discussion today.

Railroads Make Plans To Curtail If Strike Comes

CHICAGO, May 7.—(INS)—Most of the nation's railroads worked today on plans to curtail operations should the strike called for 6 a. m. Tuesday paralyze rail transportation of freight and passengers.

Notices of embargoes on shipments of perishable freight were issued by the roads and officials also sent word to non-striking employes of possible layoffs.

In addition, some railroad sources believed that more than one million members of non-operating railway unions and a substantial number of railway trainmen and conductors also may be laid off temporarily.

Notices Issued

Notices also were issued by some railroads to passengers warning them of the risk involved in taking train trips that would prevent them from returning home if the walkout of engineers, firemen and switchmen materializes.

A number of railroads announced they would not attempt to operate any trains in event of a strike, except for troop, hospital and milk trains.

Embargoes to be enforced by many roads will be on livestock, live poultry and other perishable freight. This was to prevent spoilage of foodstuffs in transit if a walkout is ordered.

Mail runs also may be discontinued because of the risks involved.

Bystander Shot In Strike Violence

CHICAGO, May 7.—(INS)—A bystander was shot and critically wounded today as violence flared again in the six-week-old meat packing strike.

Luther Stewart, 38, a steel worker, was shot through the neck when a volley of 10 shots was poured at Fred Dunn, 54, an Armour & Co. employe on Chicago's southside.

Dunn told police he was sitting in his parked car waiting to pick up two other Armour workers. He said Stewart was also in a parked car just in front of him.

He told police that two men drove up in another car and suddenly opened fire on him.

Chiefs Of Three Railway Unions In Washington

Misunderstanding On Time Causes Delay In Opening White House Parley

STRIKE CRISIS IS BEFORE CABINET

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(INS)—A conference got underway at the White House this afternoon seeking to avert a strike next Tuesday of 150,000 railroad workers.

Presiding in the role of peacemaker was Dr. John R. Steelman, assistant to President Truman. The chiefs of the three unions threatening the paralyzing walkout arrived at the White House together for the parley.

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 7.—President Truman and his cabinet discussed the railroad strike crisis today as parleys seeking to avert the threatened walkout next Tuesday of 150,000 rail workers were briefly delayed.

Chiefs of the three railway unions involved are in Washington but a misunderstanding over the meeting time caused a brief postponement in the conference originally scheduled to begin at 11 a. m. (EDT).

Discuss Rail Strike

Attorney General Clark told reporters after the regular Friday cabinet session that the rail strike threat was discussed in detail but that no preparations have yet been made for government seizure of the railroads if the peace talks collapse.

John R. Steelman, assistant to the president, is expected to begin his conference with leaders of the three strike-threatening brotherhoods this afternoon.

Clark told newsmen he had advised Mr. Truman that the government has the power to seize the railroads under a 1916 law, providing there is an emergency and World War II is still legally on.

War Is Still Legally On

The 1916 statute is applicable only in wartime. Clark said:

"I told the president several days ago that World War II is still on according to an opinion of the supreme court about a month ago."

The attorney general stated emphatically that actual seizure preparations have not been started. He declared:

"I have not seen, sent over to the White House, approved or advised the drafting of any seizure papers up to this moment."

Clark was scheduled to return to the White House later today for another conference with President Truman.

Harmony Drivers Postpone Strike

PITTSBURGH, May 7.—(INS)—A scheduled strike of 123 AFL drivers of the Harmony Short bus line was postponed today as the union considered a third wage increase offer.

AFL Motor Coach Employes, division, 1067, had set five a. m. today for the strike, but a new offer submitted by the company early today averted the walk-out.

The union has scheduled a membership meeting for Saturday morning to consider the latest offer.

Blame Bad Food And Water For Japan Epidemic

TOKYO, May 7.—(INS)—Untanitary food and water—not any after-effects of the atom bomb explosions—were blamed officially today for a so-called "mystery" epidemic which has broken out in a region of Japan.

Brig. Gen. Crawford F. Sams, public health and welfare chief at Gen. Douglas MacArthur's occupation headquarters in Tokyo, cited natural and known causes for the infection which has claimed 57 Japanese lives so far.

At least 2,500 other persons have been stricken with the ailment.

Gen. Sams discounted the possibility that the epidemic may be an aftermath of the two wartime atomic bombings inflicted upon two Japanese cities.

The health official pointed out that, among other circumstances, the epidemic is centered in an area some 500 miles from atom-bombed Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

Sams also discounted Japanese assertions that the disease is of "mysterious" origin. He pointed out that this particular virus was isolated in the United States in 1946.

The ailment, he explained, is a peculiar type of dysentery.

RODENBAUGH IS STILL CRITICAL

It was stated at the Jameson Memorial hospital this afternoon that the condition of Oliver P. Mr. Robenbaugh's condition is said to be critical.

a height of 1000 feet. This incidentally is purely a peacetime safety precaution.

Under actual battle conditions the paratroopers would drop from about 400 feet.

But One Phase

Dramatic as this drop will be, it is but one phase of the vast battle maneuvers in which 27,000 U. S. troops will combine to knock out and "aggressor force" of 3,000 guerillas which has theoretically established itself on part of Fort Campbell.

The air troops are to be reinforced by medium tanks and heavy artillery and troops.

To meet this time-table the first of three vehicular trains, each about 100 miles long, left Fort Bragg this morning. In all, about 2,300 vehicles will travel the 600 miles over the Great Smokies to Camp Campbell from Fort Bragg.

Another 500 will make the trip from Fort Benning, Ga., and still other units will fly into the "combat area" while extra heavy equipment is shipped in by rail.

The airdrop has been scheduled for 10 a. m. (EST) Saturday providing the weather is suitable.

CHIEFS OF THREE RAILWAY UNIONS IN WASHINGTON

have said that the government is ready to use its seizure powers if other efforts fail to avert the nation-wide railroad shutdown.

Conferring with Steelman at the White House are to be Alvanley Johnston, head of the engineers; David B. Robertson, chief of the firemen; and A. J. Glover, president of the Switchmen's union.

President Truman said the government has done and is doing everything it can to head off the walkout of 150,000 operating railroad workers which would paralyze the country's transportation system.

The White House meeting opened as the first effects of the strike crisis were felt in the mid-west. Some railroads there instituted today an embargo on shipments of livestock, live poultry and perishable food.

OPEN BELL AVENUE

Lawrence County has been fortunate in the matter of getting new highways in the past few years. In 1947 the new stretch of 422 was opened, the new highway 18 was completed and this year it is hoped the bridge across the Neshannock Creek will be built. Next year it is possible bids will be asked for the construction of Route 422 from New Castle to the Butler County line.

Traffic over 422 is increasing by the day, with a resultant congestion on Sampson Street. It probably never was the intention of the highway department to empty the traffic of a wide highway like 422 into a narrow street like Sampson Street.

The remedy for the congestion is not complex. Open Bell Avenue past Emery Street and connect it with 422 near the city line. By doing this it would be possible to make Bell Avenue and Sampson Streets one way traffic streets and prevent many of the traffic jams that occur on Sampson.

Opening Bell Avenue would cost us as a city a little money. But it would be money well spent. It could send part of the inbound traffic over State Street onto West Washington Street and relieve the traffic at Grant and Jefferson.

The highway improvements we have received in the past few years are appreciated of course. But we should help a little ourselves.

NO MORE SURPLUSES?

Burdensome crop surpluses may never again be such a perplexing problem to the United States as they were back in the 1930s. Farm production then so far exceeded consumption that millions of acres were taken out of production. Farmers were paid to reduce their crops.

The problem of the future, according to the experts, will be how to expand, rather than curtail, food production.

With the United States engaged in a global relief project, trends of the last decade have been reversed. And there are predictions that as foreign demand for American farm production declines, increased domestic consumption will call for higher production.

According to latest estimates, the population of the United States is expected to reach 166,000,000 by 1975. The Soil Conservation Service figures that if domestic consumption of agricultural production continues at the present per capita rate until 1990, with no increase in crop yields as a result of technological advancement, this country will need 374,000,000 acres of harvested crop lands.

But, taking into consideration the toll of erosion and land deterioration, only 295,000,000 acres will be available. These figures emphasize the increasing importance of reclamation which increases the production acreage of the nation, and the necessity for soil conservation to check erosion and maintain land productivity.

HONEST BAFFLEMENT

A reader declares she is baffled by the case of the Brooklyn lad who assembled a gang, stole rifles and a car, and pumped bullets into a teacher's house to scare her into passing him in algebra. Later the culprit tried to run a ringer in to take the exam for him, but the substitute not only was spotted; he scored a grade of only 43, which isn't passing even in Brooklyn.

The whole incident is fantastic, comic—and tragic. But an expression of bafflement is a healthy attitude for the public to take. It is better to be baffled than to look for easy, smug and somewhat cruel answers like: "Bad boys . . . rotten to the core . . . New Deal kids . . . lock 'em up . . . punish their parents."

Honest bafflement is better than eagerly embracing the conclusion—which may be true—that slum conditions, symptomatic of the moral weakness of a community, have produced a corresponding moral decline in the least regard of its children. There's a story behind this thing. No boy ever goes wrong without a reason—or goes right, either.

The whole episode seems to call for some self-examination, part of which should be conducted by the schools. Their system of academic examinations set off the incident. Some educators believe strongly that such examinations may cause disastrous mental disturbance. And a New York children's court judge has just said that keeping all children in academic schools until they are 16, including those of low mental capacity, contributes to much juvenile delinquency. Courses suited to such children might be a better solution.

Parents, neighbors, churches, police, poolhalls and soda fountains, the radio and the movies—all may be involved. The point is to look for mistakes to correct, not just find somebody to punish.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. Ostreicher, INS Foreign Director

Fresh proof that the British conception of empire remains fundamentally unchaged despite the transition of the years can be found today in Anthony Eden's foreign policy speech to the House of Commons.

The former foreign secretary, far from a forgotten figure in a nation ruled by his laborite political opponents, devoted much of his address to the Soviets and to the Kremlin's deluted idea that the western democratic way of life is on its death-bed.

Then he went on to speak of the revival of western Europe as part of a vast new plan for peace and prosperity and dropped in what probably was his most important remark.

First Consideration

He said that the British empire and commonwealth 'must always be the first consideration" in the handling of foreign affairs in any and all fields. He also observed that it was high time for empire statesmen to get together in formal conference and review the world situation.

This empire has in point of fact suffered blows to its prestige. Winston Churchill says that it is being "cheeked and chivvied"—to use his own expression—by the nations of Latin America. The British conservative press is up in arms over any suggestion that Britain has taken hat in hand by subscribing to the Marshall Plan.

In connection with imperial affairs, even the most rigid Tory can hardly say with accuracy that the labor government is allowing the empire to fall to pieces.

Still Top Priority

Surrender of the Palestine mandate and dominion status for India were commitments made by conservative regimes many years ago. The labor government merely chose what it considered to be the most propitious time.

On the overall picture, empire solidarity and development still enjoys top priority.

Britain's present naval, air and army estimates all have been predicated clearly upon the fact that Britain has 2,000 ships at sea day in and day out and intends to keep them there.

Her procedure in Palestine takes into consideration the oil fields of the Middle East and the vital pipe lines that feed the Mediterranean and Suez.

Flotilla Dispatched

Her quick dispatch of a naval flotilla to the Antarctic a few weeks ago demonstrated quite clearly that Argentina and Chile could not move unilaterally as regards the Shetland and Falkland islands. And her bi-partisan support of Foreign Secretary Bevin's western Europe union shows she is not at all disposed to surrender continental power and prestige to the Russians.

The average Englishman is insular, to be sure. But along with that insularity he manages to keep one cockney shoe in the far Pacific and a rugged Scottish boost in Arabia.

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

Russians are people!

John Steinbeck, the writer, found that out on a recent trip through Russia, and he tells you so in his book "A Russian Journal".

He didn't go to Russia looking for Stalin and Molotov. He went to see what the Russians are really like.

Are they really those sinister, mysterious schemers and plotters that they are so often pictured?

Do they really run around with bombs and daggers in their pockets, waiting for unsuspecting and unprepared Americans?

Nothing of the kind, says Steinbeck in his book.

They are people just like you and me—only they are completely fooled and bamboozled by their leaders.

The plumbing doesn't work right almost anywhere in Russia, Steinbeck says. False teeth are made of stainless steel. There is a pathetic shortage of artificial limbs for war cripples. There is hardly enough to eat.

But the Russians are being fed on hope and promises.

Living in hovels and in the cellars of their ruined houses, they are shown plaster models of magnificent apartment buildings to be erected some time in the future.

On the collective farms men and women are doing with their hands what is being done with bulldozers and tractors in this country.

But they don't mind. They are being told almost every day by their commissars that soon there will be plenty of machinery and that one of these days everybody will be living in comfort and ease.

"Tomorrow"—that is the Russian hope and the end of the Russian rainbow, and spurred by that hope and by those promises the Russians display a vitality and energy which is absolutely amazing.

The Russians were very much astonished when they met Steinbeck and Robert Capa, the photographer, who went with him.

After watching the two for a while a little girl on a Russian farm exclaimed:

"But these Americans are people just like us!"

That's why I am telling you about John Steinbeck's book. This isn't supposed to be a book review.

But it goes to show that people are people the world over, that, as the author says, "they want the same things that all people want—good lives, comfort, security and peace."

It would be easy to have all that if it weren't for the leaders who hypnotize their peoples into lethargy and cow them into submission.

But in Russia Steinbeck found pictures of Stalin in every home and statues of him in every public building.

"Stalin has never been wrong," a Russia told the author.

You see how difficult it is to see through an Iron Curtain?

It matters no which side you're on.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

YOUNG CHILD NEEDS PLAYMATES

Some time ago I wrote about the child who has had no playmates before entering school. I said that there may be no behavior problems at home or school this child may not be heir to.

A mother writes of the youngest of her children 18, 16, 10 and 6 years of age: "She had never had play mates till we moved to this location during the summer before she entered kindergarten, and as I seldom went out either, she was much too dependent on me. When we came where she could associate with children her own age she had a very difficult adjustment to make.

Healthy Child

"She is not a small child, is healthy and normal and when she would start to cry, which she did sixty times a day, it would be like a fire siren. At kindergarten she created quite a stir and in first grade she wouldn't eat her lunch, which also gave her quite a lot of attention. I don't mean to imply that this is why she did these loud recordings, but after she saw the results and the attention she received I do think it encouraged her.

"She is very destructive of her own things and things she loves. She wrapped my Christmas gifts and when we praised the wrapping and nice appearance, she tore the whole gift up. She went shopping for a gift for me and when I was pleased, she tore it up. Her doll she dearly loved she banged on the floor till it cracked. I bought her a new Easter coat and hat and she rubbed them over the floor, which she does sometimes to her clean dresses and underwear . . . When she deliberately hurts herself in that way I ignore it and while she is irrevocably destroying her pleasures I say "Go on and do it; you are only hurting yourself."

"I tried taking the things away from her and she seemed to feel relieved that she didn't have to follow out her sentence. But it didn't work. I've tried slapping her and than didn't work. I've tried ignoring it, but quite obviously I haven't found the solution.

"She is friendly and happy most of the time but treats her friends as she does her loved things, shouting at them to tell them to go home. Please help me."

My reply in part: Anything you can do to help her in better social adaptation should help. Perhaps you can restrain her ugly ways somewhat when her friends come to visit her. You only think you ignore her, but all the while have a volcano erupting inside. Then, why rub it in with tantalizing remarks? Why have a goat? Your slapping has been only after both of you are mad. Instead of slapping her, assign her to sit in a chair for punishment, without amusement, for exactly 35 minutes, using physical punishment (and effectively) only if she refuses to go to the chair or stay there. Mere shiek-

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Shadow Of The Police State

WASHINGTON, May 7.—That shadow across the sky, if you are at all interested, is the shadow of the police state. It is growing darker as the suspicious men on Capitol Hill let their fears and their prejudices spur them on.

The latest move originates with Rep. Clare Hoffman of Michigan, whose prejudice-suspicion rating is as high as any in the house. Under a bill introduced by Hoffman, anyone divulging confidential information from a committee of congress could be put in jail for a year and fined $1,000.

Given Green Light

Quickly the house rules committee gave this strange measure a green light. The little group of men on the rules committee, who sit at the toll gate telling the house what it can and cannot consider, shut the gate on many important legislative matters. But this they voted worthy of admission.

Faces were red when it was realized that the Hoffman bill would cover newspaper men as well as congressmen and committee aides. Reddest face of all was that of Rep. Clarence Brown of Ohio, a member of the rules committee, who is a newspaper publisher. He says he will amend the bill on the floor to exempt newspaper men from its provisions.

Those who think that this will remove the threat to freedom inherent in the bill are incurable optimists. To apply criminal penalties to anyone in this connection is to take a long step toward the police state.

Look At Motivation

It is important to look at the motivation for this newets move. President Truman has refused to give the un-American activities committee the loyalty file on Dr. Edward Condon of the Bureau of Standards. Basing his refusal on a long series of precedents, the president holds that it is the prerogative of the executive department of the government to withhold confidential papers pertaining to the work of that department.

But another element is involved. The department of commerce carefully surveyed the charges brought against Condon. Using the machinery authorized under the president's loyalty order, the department found that Condon was loyal. Part of the evidence considered was a letter from J. Edgar Hoover giving the FBI finding on Condon.

To turn the Condon file over to a committee of congress would violate the terms of the loyalty test as defined by the White House. There is the risk that the material, which contains hearsay reports, rumors and gossip, would become public.

Penalties For "Leaking"

In order to lessen that risk, Rep. Hoffman proposes to apply criminal penalties to those "leaking" confidential information. It is precisely in this way that the encroachments of the police state grow and multiply. One step leads to another step, as in this instance.

The question of the freedom of newspaper reporters to report information is in a sense irrelevant. The tradition of a free press, backed by the very great power of the American press, insures the elimination of any threat to free reporting insofar as the present move is concerned.

Hoffman was remarkably frank in arguing that newspaper men had no all-inclusive right of "disclosing information". In wartime, he said, the publication of information giving aid and comfort to the enemy was punishable as treason. He seemed to be implying that we needed some such law in peacetime.

Some Irresponsible Men

There are some irresponsible men in the newspaper business. Rep. Hoffman might have pointed out that the newspaper which most noisily and vociferously supports him published at a critical momen in World War II information which might have given enor-

From Me To You

By MESEEALL

Sunday will be Mother's Day . . . time for you to stop and think . . . for those whose Mother has passed on we give the following:

I can see in my fondest memory
An old wooden rocking chair
And a sweet kind face her eyes filled with care
As she rocked in that old rocking chair.

She rocked me at twilight
She rocked me at dawn
Since Mother went away
Everything goes wrong.

She told and taught me the golden rule
In a kind old fashioned way
She said to read my Bible
And pray each night and day.

She rocked me in the evening
With my head upon her breast
I listened to her singing
Safe in the arms of Jesus
Safe on His gentle breast.

The light has gone from the window
She waited there for me
Her silver hair like a halo
How beautiful Heaven must be.

She sleeps beneath the roses
Her tired hands at rest
We tried so hard to save her
But Jesus knows the best.

I watched the twilight fading
As she rocked me on her knee
I heard her softly singing
Nearer My God To Thee,
Nearer To Thee.

Now the chair is still and has been set back
On one corner is a bow of black
Where she rocked her babies young and fair
Now the chair is empty and the room is bare.

When I get tired and burdened with care
I go and sit close by that old rocking chair
There is nothing so sweet or nothing so fair
As just one glimpse of that old rocking chair.

Shaping-up of Mr. Hoffman

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 7.—Woodrow Wilson once remarked that when a man comes to official Washington, he either grows or he swells.

It will be interesting to watch for these alternative symptoms in Paul Gray Hoffman, the automobile maker who has become Economic Cooperation Administrator—high priest of the Marshall plan.

I think we can best detect these symptoms by noting the manner in which Hoffman lives up to his salient duties as set forth in Public Law 472.

Hoffman, under this law, becomes the co-equal in cabinet rank with Gen. George Marshall, Secretary of State. Never since the founding of the Republic has a mere "civilian" attained any such diplomatic level. And seldom in our history have we had a Secretary of State so distinguished, respected, unselfish and self-effacing as Gen. Marshall. These circumstances pose a real challenge for Hoffman.

Has Hard Task

If he grows, he will have to match Gen. Marshall in all these attributes. Hoffman will have to be so gracious, so tractable, so high-minded and yet so sleeplessly effectual that he neither seems to outshine Gen. Marshall nor to suffer by comparison with this great soldier-statesman.

But if Hoffman swells, he will assume a bloated self-importance, a pushy overbearance, a jealous rank-consciousness that will make him both a figure of fun and a governmental fifth wheel.

Hoffman, under the law, is permitted and compelled to build the ECA organization from the ground up. He has the selection, the placing, the promotion of hundreds of big and little helpers for big and little jobs.

Will Get Best Men

If Hoffman grows, he will not hesitate to surround himself with the best available brains and energy. He will not fear that some subordinate will tunnel under and take his job. He will not feel uncomfortable, as do many Washington executives, in the presence of really talented assistants.

But if Hoffman swells, he will soon demonstrate a familiar Washington phenomenon—the change-over of a fine businessman into a tread-mill bureaucrat. If he swells, he will find it easy to say yes when Sen. Blow or Rep. Blah wants a relative stuck on the payroll. If he swells, he will dog-paddle around town to cocktail parties for the pleasure of reminiscing: "As I said to the wife of the Ambassador from Iceburg . . . ." If he swells, he will talk as foolishly and be about as useful as the highly-touted Charles Luckman who was in and out of public life last winter faster than you can say "Meatless Tuesday".

Has Herculean Task

Hoffman, under the law, is supposed to "maximize the private channels of trade". This means that he has the Herculean task of using a multi-billion-dollar government crank to start the stalled-out engine of international free enterprise.

If Hoffman grows, he will soon know the difference between a legitimate grant and a pork barrel grab. He will resist the pressure boys from the farm bloc and the industrial world who are already on hand to sell him everything from surplus hen feathers to model merry-go-rounds. He must not make Europe a dumping ground for excess American goods. He must, if he grows, slide rapidly from the use of government agencies like the Quartermaster Corps, the Bureau of Federal Supply and the Commodity Credit Corporation into the free enterprise channels of firm-to-firm business transactions between American and European concerns.

But if he swells, he will jolly up the pressure boys with government largess, rely on wasteful inter-departmental supply systems and fatten his vanity by Lord Bountiful to the European starvlings.

If Hoffman grows in his job, history will deck him with all the bright adjectives of praise and gratitude. But if he swells, he will be the cartoonists' and the satirists' delight.

Jobs Upon A Time

James Forrestal, United States secretary of defense, studied at Dartmouth college and Princeton. He served as a lieutenant in the United States Naval Air service in World War I (1917-19). Forrestal, an investment broker, was born in Beacon, N. Y. From 1940 to 1944, he was undersecretary of the United States Navy and then became secretary until he was appointed to his present post.

Russia's Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov was first associated with Josef Stalin in 1912 when Molotov was helping Stalin edit a small revolutionary sheet called Pravda. When he was 16 years old, he adopted the Russian name Molot (for hammer) and became Molotov the Communist. When Molotov was 19 he was exiled to the Arctic. In the 1917 revolution he attracted Nikolai Lenin's attention. Lenin calling him 'the best file clerk in Russia."

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

Medical men are interested in the case of a woman who is awake for the first time since 1936 . . . Some suspect the Landon campaign put her to sleep.

By sleeping for 12 years she also missed Dewey's first two tries, "all aid short of war" and the beginning of 'the century of the common man" . . . all spectacular events.

A long sleep has its compensations but I wouldn't want to be the one to break the news to any woman that she had aged 12 years since she went to bed.

Still a woman lucky enough to have known little of Hitler and less of high prices for 12 years has something to be thankful for.

But if I was her I'd go right back to sleep for another 12 years . . . She can always catch a Dewey campaign.

And frankly, 1948 doesn't have much more to recommend it than 1936 . . . More medicine shows that's all.

The World and the Mud Puddles

LOOKING BACKWARD

When a President of the United States is elected "again and again and again"; in fact, elected for four terms of four years each, of necessity a great many individual supporters become more or less prominent. Well, in the case of Franklin Delano Roosevelt, there were a great many men identified at New Dealers and supporters of his administrations. Some of them appearing during the first term and afterwards disappeared from public life and likewise supporters of the successive terms only lasted just so long. Even in the matter of Vice Presidents they changed, until we find Mr. Garner supplanted by Mr. Wallace and Mr. Wallace supplanted by Mr. Truman. Many of these men have appeared with reminiscences. These volumes are piling up so that they represent a pretty big library. I suppose they all will be found in the Congressional Library if not in individual libraries. They are all more or less interesting.

Particularly Interesting

Two of them are particularly interesting as explaining the present split between Mr. Truman and the southern wing of the Democratic party. One is by the Texan who was Vice President in the first Roosevelt Administration—Jack Garner, and the other by former Postmaster General and former National Democratic Chairman Jim Farley.

Both are respectful enough in their commentaries on the acts of the late President, but there is an undercurrent of cynicism that indicates the wide difference in political conceptions of the two authors and their departed chief. Mr. Gardner is a representative type of the conservative southern partisan. He was plainly and frankly a party man, and confesses that on occasion he swallowed certain Rooseveltian vagaries only for the sake of harmony. Mr. Farley, while not of the Hague, Kelly or Pendergast type of big-city boss, is also in the category of "practical" politicians, an organization man. He also usually was willing to go along with the policies of his former chief, however reluctantly.

as a matter of maintaining party supremacy.

While the old-line tendencies of both of these men were irreconcilable with the New Deal from the beginning, it is apparent that the final strain upon their loyalty was the famous attempt of Mr. Roosevelt to pack the United States Court. This frustrated attempt—frustrated largely by southern Democratic votes in Congress—with the resultant "purge' program, palpably was the source of differences which never were healed. The traces of the bitterness inspired by the "purge" still linger in the south as indicated by present events.

Resented 'Double-Cross"

Both Mr. Garner and Mr. Farley also resented what they undoubtedly regarded as the double-cross" handed the late Senator Pat Harrison in the contest against Senator Alben Barkley for the Senate Democratic leadership. It is related that Mr. Roosevelt promised to follow a hands-off course, urging both his lieutenants to do likewise. The lieutenants stuck to this course, only to find later that the President not only had written a letter to Senator Barkley tantamount to endorsement, but had called on Mayor Kelly, Chicago political boss, to bring pressure on an Illinois Senator to cast the one deciding vote for Senator Barkley This, it seems, was not exactly cricket," according to the old-fashioned standards of the Texan and the New Yorker.

As both Mr. Garner and Mr. Farley were decidely influential in winning conservative Democratic support for New Deal legislation, their final break with Mr. Roosevelt marked the beginning of the gradual disintegration of the queer agglomeration which ruled under the New Deal for so many years.

Difficulties Largely Inherited

The literary output of these two Democrats, once so conspicuous, leaves the inference that the present intraparty difficulties in foreign relations are largely inherited. While this may afford the President some personal comfort, the fact does not change the political situation and is unlikely to exempt him from the consequences.

Referring to the indignation in Congress over the court-packing episode, Mr. Farley relates that he cautioned Mr. Roosevelt that his insistence might "split the party beyond repair,' and the chief's reply was, "good riddance, too." Expressions from the southerners these days indicate that the "good riddance" may finally come to pass.

mous aid and comfort to the enemy.

But to violate a fundamental canon of freedom in order to punish a few offenders is the equivalent of burning down the house to destroy a few rats. When our freedom is gone, it will be too late to study the way in which, step by step, it was taken from us.

Why the un-American activities committee wants the Condon report is fairly clear. They want to buttress their own findings, which are not too substantial, with J. Edgar Hoover's opinion.

This is to give to the FBI a power it has never sought—a power that it does not want. It gives to a police agency, which is essentially what the FBI is, the power to make policy and pass on the fitness, or the lack of it, of candidates for high office. That is the real meaning of the controversy between Capitol Hill and the White House.

GAINS ARE MADE IN DAY'S TRADING

Speculators Continue in Buying Mood in New York Market This Morning

NEW YORK, May 7.—(INS)—Gains ranging to a point were recorded in forenoon stock market trading today, speculators continuing the buying mood which appeared in yesterday afternoon's trading.

Rails and oils maintained leadership. Selected industrials and aviations also competed for favor.

First hour turnover rose to 360,000 shares from 270,000 in the same period Thursday.

Texas Co. carved a point advance to lead oils higher. Nothern Pacific and Baltimore & Ohio paced rails to fractionally higher levels. General Motors 56⅞, was up 1⅛. Douglas Aircraft was nearly a point better at 65¾. Chesapeake & Ohio to 39¼, up ⅝.

Cotton futures were mixed in early deals. Wheat and corn in Chicago turned easier after a firm opening. Winnipeg rye strengthened, May and July futures climbing the 10-cent limit.

Experiment In Union Shop Vote Set For Monday

PITTSBURGH, May 7.—(INS)—An experiment in conducting union shop elections for the heavy construction industry was scheduled for Monday in Western Pennsylvania, the National Labor Relations Board announced today.

Robert N. Denham, NLRB general council, said that elections will be held at approximately 98 jobs involving contractors in a 33-county area.

The industry and board have found that the shop election procedure established under the Taft-Harley Act is not applicable to the construction field due to continuous changing of jobs and contractors.

Denham said the elections will be laboratory experiments "so that tested and simplified procedures can be fashioned for subequent unionshop polls in the industry."

Some two million workers are employed in the heavy construction industry throughout the nation.

Babson More Optimistic On Outlook For Nation

By ROGER W. BABSON
Copyright, 1948, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.

BABSON PARK, Mass., May 7. —I have today returned from a trip throughout the great central west—the "Magic Circle" of America. During the winter in Florida I was rather blue due to the waste and indifference that I saw there. On Saint Patrick's Day, however, I heard a message of courage and decision broadcast to the world by our Chief Executive and commander-in-chief of our armed forces. If this has aroused the U. S. A. to new purpose and productivity as it aroused me, good times for the next few years are "possible".—Provided: We can match our new-found faith with a proportionate output of goodwill—and goods!

Roger W. Babson

Good Times "Possible"

Readers of this column will recall that repeatedly I have stressed, if production fails to keep pace with demand, all of us could be caught up in a tornado of inflation—the vicious "boom and bust" spiral. Furthermore, the threat of communism and other storm clouds had also darkened our outlook for the nearby nineteen-fifties. Therefore, I had been distressed for sometime by the "take-it-easy" attitude of our people.

My trip of the past few weeks has changed my attitude and strengthened my faith. I found that President Truman—with that speech—pepped up the entire nation. I found farmers, ranchers, merchants, manufacturers and even the hard-boiled bankers in a new and better mood. They—like myself—are more hopeful than for two years.

Need Of More Capital

I am heartily in accord with the growing conviction that a great demand of the period next ahead will be a universal desire and need for capital. Not even the impenetrable Iron Curtain can conceal the fact that Russians, Americans and all other divisions of the globe are subject to the same iron law! Namely: People cannot keep on forever consuming and/or exporting more than they produce. It is the old axiom of "root, hog, or die". It matters little in what part of the world you set the pig trough. Yet capital cannot be manufactured by your local banker. It must be saved by you and me.

Hence, in this old-new world of ours today, we have the ironic situation that the United States, the United Kingdom and the USSR tomorrow will be united in their common need for capital. How or earth is humanity—whether East or West—to get this capital, this life-blood of the world's economic future? Only by all of us producing more than we consume, and allowing the surplus to accumulate. Everyone in business these days is in the same boat, eager to get more capital, in one form or another. It is the common story, from wholesaler to retailer, from Maine to California; from Moscow, USSR, to Washington, D. C.

Who Among Us Are "Producers"?

Another thing: We must accept the economic truth that in a period of prosperity people will not be content with a mere "something to eat". Alert and informed families will ask more about the nutritional values of the soils where their goods are grown. Hence, I predict that housewives of the 'fifties' will become students of the principle that good foods originate in good soils. The agriculture of the "fifties" will tend toward a combine of engineering and organic chemistry. Then there are hundreds of important new inventions ready to come on the market.

The day is dawning when we shall classify as "producers" not only farmers, manufacturers and miners—but all who apply integrity and ability to the betterment of the country. "Producers" are those who unite to produce superior goods and/or services at efficient costs. They, with the help of the teachers and preachers are the hope of America.

Price of Prosperity? Productivity!

Yes, I now feel that more good years are possible, but like so many other good things, they are to be had only if we are willing to pay the price. Looking forward to the potential prosperity of the nineteen-fifties, the price-tag is marked in bold letters for all to read. It says: We all must produce more and save more. Here, then, is the neighborly advice which I am giving—and trying to take myself.

Do not look backward upon things-as-they-were, however precious the memories, nor struggle to keep things-as-they-are. Rather, let's all unite to create new highs in living standards, including standards both material and spiritual. Work and faith are the first and final securities. If we put those things first, the nineteen-fifties can be good to us all and we can forget "boom and bust" for awhile at least.

KEEP GRAZING PERIOD VERY SHORT AT FIRST

Cows need to become accustomed to pasture gradually, and if allowed out too long while the ground is still cold chilled udders may result.

Another problem is pasture flavor in milk. By taking the cattle off pasture at least three hours before milking time the off flavor generally can be avoided.

Feeding dry hay helps reduce the laxative effect of the green grass. Cows can be fed hay when they come off the pasture, and once they are left out all the time hay can be fed from racks in the pasture field.

When cows have access to hay in racks in the pasture they produce more milk and carry more flesh than cows on equally good pasture without hay. Hay slows up the movement of the grass through the cow's digestive system and increases its digestibility.

Use of hay on pasture saves considerable grain. The extra flesh which it produces enables cows to maintain production at a high level in the fall months when the milk flow is low.

EXPLANATION OF RAYON FAMILY NAMES

Homemakers know very little about rayon fabrics and what to expect of each according to sales clerks. Unlike wool, silk, cotton and linen which are fibers from plants or animals, rayon fibers are made chemically. Rayon is made of pulp or cotton linters which are turned into liquid by adding chemicals and then are changed into threads of filaments by forcing the liquid through tiny openings into a substance which hardens it into threads.

Rayon is a family name. Each kind of rayon is named after the method by which it is made. Homemakers are more familiar with acetate rayon as Celanese or Secracets, trade names used for that fabric. Rayon made by the acetate method does not absorb moisture so quickly as viscose rayon and will dry more quickly. This type of rayon will melt or fuse under a too hot iron. Twenty-seven per cent of the rayon used is made by the acetate process.

Cupramonium rayon, a fabric which launders well, is better known by its only brand name Bemberg. Terasco and Codura are two of the brand names used for viscose rayon. Seventy-one per cent of all rayon used is made by the viscose methd. Because of its strength, it is used in tire cords as well as in clothing.

OVERCOMING SELF-CONSCIOUSNESS

"I suffer from self-consciousness when I am with people I don't know very well. While I am not a beauty, neither am I homely. I dress well and have a fairly good education. Yet I am timid when I meet strangers. Do you know of any remedy for this condition. I wish I could be one of those gay, charming women who make such a 'hit' socially."

Answer: It is almost impossible to make a naturally reticent person gay and charming, these being congenital gifts. But there is no reason in the world why you should go around with a feeling of inferiority.

The way to overcome this feeling is to be sure of yourself. If you are moderately well-informed, express yourself along with others. Just as long as you think you are inferior, you will continue to be self-conscious and uncomfortable. If you think you are timid, you will be so. If you think you will make blunders, you will surely make them.

To rid yourself of this social menace, you must develop faith in yourself. School yourself to put all thoughts of inferiority out of your mind. Cease to be afraid of people. Join in conversation without hesitation and take an animated interest in things going on around you. Contribute at least one story, apropos of the topics being discussed. Do not permit yourself to be wrapped u in your own thoughts to the exclusion of those around you. Avoid introspection.

Try your best to ovtrcome your self-consciousness and you will find yourself developing poise and self-assurance. I have frequently noticed that those who are self-conscious and timid have, invariably, the least reason for being so. And many who have never experienced the slightest feeling of inferiority have greater cause for doing so.

Need For Control Over Steel By U. S. Will Be Probed

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(INS)—Rep. Andrews (R) N. Y., revealed today that the House Armed Services Committee will launch an investigation next fall on the need for government controls over steel.

The committee chairman stated that his group will follow through on the recommendation of a special subcommittee which found that a shortage of steel supplies is preventing an expansion of oil facilities.

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. Short (R) Mo., reported to the full committee that "the nation is in a critical oil situation.' Short told reporters that "in the event of war" we would have only a two weeks supply on hand."

Mothers and daughters of the Italian Mother club and guests numbering to 150, gathered in the green room of the YWCA, Thursday evening for their annual banquet.

Mrs. Louis Fusco gave the worship service prior to the delicious dinner served at 6 o'clock, on tables nicely arranged.

Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser, as speaker of the evening gave both the mothers and daughters toast.

A special feature of the evening was the Sunny avenue school band, composed of 35 students in the first second grade. Instruments of the band included cymbals, clappers, drums, block and sticks, with leaders of the group being Patsy Younger and Patricia Schaas.

The students are rather versatile and also offered vocal selections with their own accompaniment. They sang, "How Do You Do Mothers?" "Wooden Shoe Waltz" and "Midnight Fire Alarm." The band played "Happy Farmers," "Flower Waltz", "Listen to the Bells," and 'Peggy O'Neill." "Mothers Will Shine," was the closing number.

Mrs. W. L. Smith, principal of Sunny avenue school accompanied the group on the piano, and mothers of the band children were guests. Miss Mary Tabisz is chairman of the band.

Serving at the tables last evening were: Mrs. Vito Colella, Mrs. Pete Scarnati, Mrs. Edward Ezzo, Mrs. Louis Nocera, Mrs. Patsy Armundo, Mrs. Gabriel Armundo and Mrs. Sam Vericelli.

Mrs. Teresa Viviano was chairman of the banquet. May 20 is the next meeting, hostesses: Mrs. Joseph DelSignore, Mrs. Joseph Gizzi and Mrs. Walter Pearl.

Federal Air For Battle on Heart Disease Promised

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(INS)—Rep. Keefe (R) Mich., today promised that the house appropriation committee would be in full accord with a program to combat heart disease through the establishment of federal research facilities.

Keefe gave this assurance to the house interstate commerce committee which is studying five bills designed to tackle the problem on a national scale.

The congressman, as sponsor of one of the bills and a member of the house appropriations committee, said he was speaking for the entire committee in asking for basic authority to set up heart research facilities.

Keefe pointed out that there were gaps in existing legislation which gives the public health service general authority to combat illnesses.

He said that congress has already filled two of these gaps in authorizing research programs for mental health and cancer.

Keefe told the committee that there was nothing in the existing law which permitted grants in aid to private institutions, trainees or to aid in building teaching facilities in medical schools. He said his bill would fill those gaps.

Naval Reserve Recruit Centers Planned in Area

The navy announces that in connection with naval reserve recruiting, it is planned to organize naval reserve recruiting offices in the major cities of the tri-state area. These offices will be manned by naval reservists who reside in or near these cities.

Contemplated locations are Pittsburgh, Altoona, Oil City, DuBois, Uniontown, New Castle, Greensburg and other localities as may be required. Personnel of these offices will comprise one officer of the rank of lieutenant-commander, lieutenant or lieutenant (junior grade) and two enlisted men, who will be ordered to extended training duty until June 30 this year. Naval reservists interested in this training duty should communicate with Capt. B. A. Hart, U. S. Navy, Old Federal building, Pittsburgh (19), Pa.

Senate Approves Funds For Modern 70-Group Air Force

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(INS)—The Senate overwhelmingly approved funds Thursday to launch the building of a modern 70-group air force as the first line of defense against any "Super-Pearl Harbor" attack.

The vote was 74 to 2, with Sen. Taylor (D) Idaho and Sen. Cain (R) Wash., opposing the bill.

The measure now goes to the House for concurrence in minor Senate amendments. The House approved the legislation last week with only three dissenting votes.

In debate on the contract authorization measure, Sen. Bridges (R) N. H., appropriations committee chairman, bluntly named Russia as America's "one adversary."

Mother Squirrel Moves Her Young

Dr. R. M. Patterson, of 328 East Park avenue, is interested in the story in "Pa Newe" column of the "News", on Wednesday evening, of a squirrel carrying another across Butler avenue.

Dr. Patterson states he saw a similar case in his back yard about ten days ago. The mother squirrel was moving her couple of babies, of good size, one about six, and the other seven o'clock in the evening, about ten feet at a time, then a rest.

While the squirrel was carrying its precious burden across the street, Dr. Patterson personally blocked off traffic while the moving was going on. Having crossed, she climbed a tree, then on to a limb to a chimney on the Ramsey home, where she had built another nest.

The previous quarters were in an apple tree, where a flicker's nest had been located, and evidently the family had been cramped for room, bringing on a necessary moving.

The mother squirrel, was a young one presented to Dr. Patterson by Owen Fox, city forester, last year, as the nest had been broken up, and he was afraid harm would come to it. The youngster became very tame, and stayed in the vicinity. Mr. Fox believes that it was a moving of this kind was being done by a squirrel on Butler avenue.

Apple and Peach Orchards Hits By Last Week Freeze

HARRISBURG, May 7.—(INS)—The state agriculture department today reported some apple and peach orchards suffered "freeze" damage in all fruit belts of Pennsylvania last week.

Sweet cherries are in good condition except in the Adams-Franklin commercial area, the department said.

Plowing Started

Other crop surveys revealed fields in southern Pennsylvania are ready for planting corn. Plowing is underway in central and northern sectors while potato planting is progressing in southeastern counties.

The condition of wheat and barley is reported good throughout the state.

Growth of most vegetables has ben slowed by cool, wet weather. Some early sweet corn has been planted while beets are coming up and canning peas making good growth, according to the department.

New Histories Now At Library

Junior department of the Free Public Library announces the addition of three new history books by Genevieve Foster. They are: Augustus Caesar's World, George Washington's World and Abraham Lincoln's World.

Related historical events all over the world are shown by charts and pictures as well as by the text.

These attractive books should appeal to both student and teacher as the text is authoritative and very readable.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, May 7.—(INS)—A gal has a tough time trying to become a movie star when she is married to a movie star.

Jean Wallace, one of Hollywood's prettiest redheads, asked us to ask her about it because she is an expert on the problem.

Five years ago Miss Wallace copped a nice fat movie contract. Then she fell in love with Franchot Tone, and vice-versa, and they told it to a preacher.

Lost Interest

The moment Jean Wallace switched her handle to Mrs. F. Tone picture producers promptly lost all interest in her. After a typically super-colossal Hollywood publicity build-up, too.

Jean recalled today:

"The big boys refused to believe that a girl married to a prominent and successful star could be interested in a film career of her own.

"I reminded them that I had started my career long before I was married. After all, I came to Hollywood by the show-girl route and the studio had made big plans for me.

"I told the bosses my desire to become a movie star was no sudden whim. They just smiled knowingly, as if to humor me, and let it go at that."

Wants To Act

With Tone's encouragement, Jean joined a Hollywood dramatic group. A 20th Century-Fox talent scout spied her in a play.

"Are you sure," inquired the talent scout, "that you really want to be an actress?"

Jean patiently assured the guy. So the studio signed her to a second term contract. But when her screen career started rolling again her real-life role as Mrs. Franchot Tone took priority.

The stork made an heir-male special delivery—in the person of Master Pascal Franchot Tone, named for his pappy.

Later Jean made two flickers, "It Shouldn't Happen To A Dog" and "Blage on Noon.' Then the stork flew in again on another personal appearance tour.

George Jessel, the comedian turned producer, finally bent an ear to Jean's pleas and gave her a part in "Burlesque." She plays a burlyque hoffer who almost manages to steal Dan Dailey away from Betty Grable in the film.

Doctors, Dentists Are Being Queried

HARRISBURG, May 7.—(INS)—The state office of selective service records today is querying 2710 physicians and dentists if they will serve on examining boards should Congress reactivate the draft.

Col. H. M. Gross, of Harrisburg, director, said the answers would be tabulated and attempts made to fill gaps where replies were negative.

Gross and State Adjutant General Frank A. Weber were cooperating in oiling Pennsylvania's draft machinery should Congress give the green light for action.

May Have Found Secret of Cheap Atomic Power

LONDON, May 7.—(INS)—British scientists may have found the means of supply cheap atomic power for industry.

The Daily Express' science editor reported that atomic scientists have solved one of the major problems standing in the way of developing inexpensive atomic power: that of getting uranium furnaces hot enough to deliver superheated steam to generate electricity.

The writer said that because of military applications of the process, its details are secret.

However, scientists have revealed the basic principle, which is a new means of "canning" uranium rods in tin.

Previously, the rods, which fuel the atomic furnace, were sealed in aluminum, but that metal had a tendency to disintegrate before the furnace got hot enough.

Many scientists had expressed the belief that atomic furnaces would never be adaptable for industrial power

Now, according to the Express' report, the new process developed at the Didcot laboratories, makes such usages of atomic energy extremely likely.

Jap Businessmen Are Permitted To Leave Country

TOKYO, May 7.—(INS)—Japanese businessmen were permitted Thursday to leave Japan for the United States, for the first time since before the war.

Two of them left Tokyo aboard a Northwest Air Lines plane, bound for New York City where they will work in the Foreign Trade Office recently established there for the Supreme Allied Pacific Command.

HAS CLEAR CONSCIENCE

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., May 7.—(INS)—It took 20 years but a Johnstown man at least had a clear conscience today.

Whitney Hopeful That Rail Strike Will Be Averted

Leader in 1946 Strike Says He Believes Strike Threat Will Be Eliminated

CLEVELAND, May 7.—(INS)—Alexander F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, believes the threatened nationwide rail strike will be averted.

Whitney, who joined with Alvanley Johnston of the engineers to stage a paralyzing two-day rail strike in May, 1946, said a settlement would be reached by "very capable men in Washington discussing the railroad feud".

In a statement to newsmen, the white-haired chief of 216,000 trainmen said that he had not issued any instructions for union members to follow in case of a strike Tuesday. He added:

"We'll cross that bridge when we come to it."

He said it was likely that both sides in the current dispute would be asked to consider a compromise truce and stated that he was "willing to get together with the railroads to see what needs to be done."

He added, however, that "it looks very much as if we would continue to be deadlocked".

Urge Legalizing Of Horse Race Betting in State

PITTSBURGH, May 7.—(INS)—The move to legalize horse racing in Pennsylvania today had the unanimous support of the state's Federation of Labor.

This support came in the form of a resolution adopted by the 1,509 delegates to the PFL's 46th annual convention in Pittsburgh. The delegates favored legalized racing chiefly as a means of easing taxes.

The resolution pointed out that in legalizing horse racing and permitting pari-mutual betting that the "betting be adequately taxed" so that all residents might receive reductions in real estate and other taxes, such as cigaret levies, etc.

Change Is Urged In Marriage Ceremony

BOSTON, May 7.—(INS)—The ritual committee of the Methodist church recommended addition of a "declaration of intention" to the marriage ceremony.

Couples would be required to sign a statement recognizing the "lifelong union" of marriage.

Delegates at the quadrennial general conference saw this as an attempt to reduce the divorce rate.

Action was expected later on the declaration which states:

"We hold marriage to be a lifelong union, as it is set forth in the church discipline (the code of laws); we believe in the sanctity of parenthood and Christian guidance for children.

'We will make utmost effort to establish this relationship and seek God's guidance."

Business Quarrel Ends in Suicide At Youngstown

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 7.—An argument over a business transaction resulted in the suicide of one of the participants, William C. Simcox, 63, former president of the Mahoning Valley Furniture Dealer's Association, and former member of the Mahoning County Board of Elections, here Thursday afternoon.

Dr. David A. Belinky, Mahoning county coroner, ruled Simcoxs death a suicide, attributing it to despondency over business reverses. A bullet pierced the roof of Simcox's mouth, Dr. Belinky said.

The shooting climaxed a violent disagreement over a business transaction with John Catheline.

Princeton Home Economics Group Work

Throughout United States, home economic groups are receiving recognition for work they have done during the year. Here in Lawrence County small groups were organized in clothing construction and furniture care and repair.

In the above photo, Mrs. Thomas Shelar makes a final check on the hem of the dress modeled by Mrs. Betty Porter at a meeting of the home economics group in Princeton. The dresses the women are wearing are the results of a series of meetings on clothing construction that were held in the community this year. The ladies used a new method in dressmaking aimed at giving a professional finish in home sewing.

Eight women from Princeton and six from Mahoning township made dresses using the new method with all dresses made from the same pattern. When the garments were completed no two looked alike. Changes were made in regard to the type of fabric used, figure differences, and personality of the individual.

The two groups mentioned, as well as those in other areas were conducted through the Agricultural Extension Association. Miss Jean Craumer and Miss Emmeline Mehlman, home economic extension representatives, were in charge. The extension office is planning similar groups in rural communities this fall.

FEET

Some jobs require a lot of foot work. Waiters, teachers, bar clerks, policemen, housewives, nurses, farmers, boxers, brick-layers, dentists, clerks, mail carriers and many others are on their feet for long hours.

For these jobs and for other jobs, good feet are a big help.

Properly fitting shoes are very important. It is not sufficient for shoes to be large enough or small enough. They should also conform to the shape of the foot.

Properly fitting socks are necessary too. These should be washed and changed often.

Frequent short rests help the feet.

Foot powder in the shoes or socks is usually helpful. It seems to absorb the moisture and help to keep the feet dry.

It is a good plan to have several pairs of shoes and wear them for only one day at a time. Then they should dry out for a day or two.

Butler Fire Ball Mystery Solved

Ominous Ball of Red Fire in Butler County May Be Part of Meteor Which Fell Here

BUTLER, May 7.—Butlerites believe that they have solved the mystery of the ominous ball of red fire which streaked across the storm-black night shattering against a hillside near Hooker with an earth shaking blast, last week.

The strange fire ball which fell at approximately the same time the one did in New Castle on April 27, may have been a part of the same heavenly body, with part of it dropping in Butler county and another portion in Lawrence county.

The answer to the phenomenon didn't come to light until this week until farmer Frank M. Kuhn of Karns City R. D. 1, discovered dirt scattered on a hillside across the road from his farm house. With the assistance of a neighbor, Mr. Kuhn dug at the spot where the "fire ball" fell and found pieces of coal black material, gray and brown in the center.

Two holes were drilled in the ground by the fire ball with dirt scattered approximately 50 feet around. Force of the explosion in one of the two foot holes drove a tunnel through the clay and came out several feet down the hill severing an old tree trunk lying across the area.

Rheumatic Fever Registrations Are Planned In State

HARRISBURG, May 7.—(INS)—The State Medical Society plans today the first state-wide registration of rheumatic fever and rheumatism cases in Pennsylvania.

Still in the planning stage, the registration would give the medical profession a basis on which to conduct research into the cause and cure of the ailment that causes the highest death rate among children.

Dr. Andrew B. Fuller, of Pittsburgh, chairman of the society's rheumatic fever committee, announced the preliminary outline for the county-by-county survey of rheumatic fever and heart disease instance.

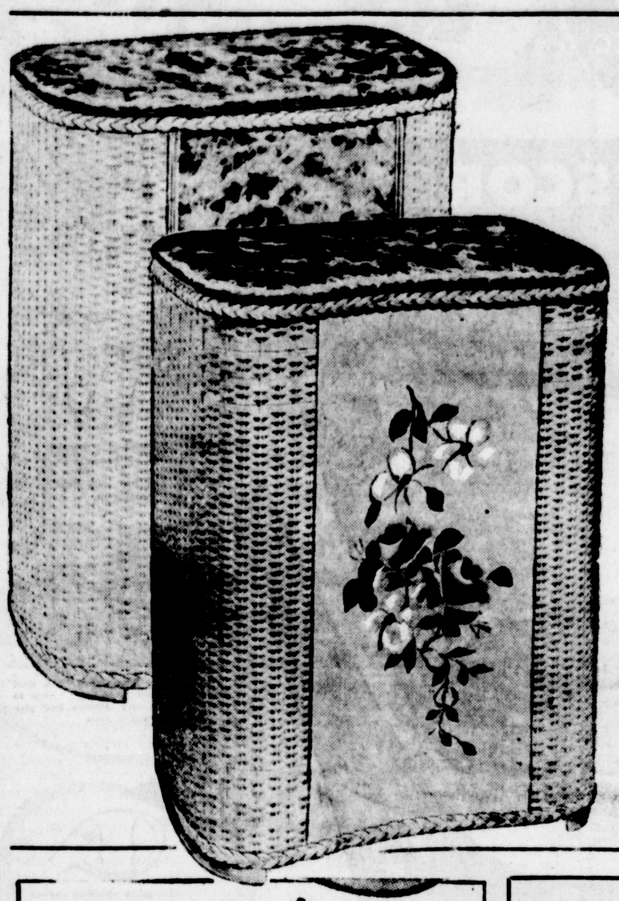

The committee suggested during a meeting at Harrisburg a county chairman be appointed to direct registrations. Cases would be obtained from doctors.

The plan, expected to be costly, must be endorsed by the society's membership before it can be put into effect.

Public Health Program Scored

SCRANTON, Pa., May 7.—(INS)—Pennsylvania's public health program was assailed today by Dr. W. Harvey Perkins, dean of Jefferson Medical school in Philadelphia.

Addressing the 56th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis society at Scranton, he said "public health in Pennsylvania holds an unenviable low position among the states."

He said personnel is inadequate and poorly-trained while the organization of health jurisdiction is arbitrary and obsolete.

"Public health education in our medical schools is far behind the needs for developing community-minded physicians who are the deputy health officers in every village and town,' Perkins declared.

There are only half of the number of public health nurses required in the state while more dentists and dental hygienists are needed.

Mid-Atlantic League Opener Is Rained Out

Will Make Effort To Play Saturday But Doubtful, Game Sunday Called At 3 P. M.

Incessant rains Thursday evening and a heavy downpour this morning has caused the postponement of the New Castle Chiefs and Butler Yankees Mid-Atlantic league opening game here at P. J. Flaherty Field tonight, it was announced at 10 o'clock this morning by General Manager George Smith.

The game will be re-scheduled for another date, Smith said.

It is also doubtful if the scheduled league opening can take place Saturday night, unless there is considerable sunshine and wind this afternoon and Saturday. However an effort will be made to dry out the field, by burning gasoline.

Hope To Play Sunday

An effort will be made to get the Sunday game played however, which will see the opening ceremonies unfolded. The Sunday game will start at 3 o'clock.

Flaherty Field last evening before the rains came, was in perfect shape after the heavy rain of late Tuesday and Wednesday. The groundskeeper Paul Joy has done an excellent job here, but there is no way to combat water.

The fans were sorely disappointed by the rain today and are eagerly looking forward to the start of the Mid-Atlantic here. A crowd of over 2,000 was indicated had the game been played tonight.

High Track Team At Ambridge Today

Eugene Gribble and Lou Zeigler Will Leave Saturday for West Point Exams

Despite the incesant rains today, the New Castle High track team left for Ambridge at noon today to attend the WPIAL Trials at the Ambridge High field. Only the young men who finish one, two and three today will be eligible to take part in the annual WPIAL at Connellsville next Saturday. The meet today was to have started at 1:30 o'clock, Coach Klee announced.

The New Castle High track team suffered a great loss when it was announced today that Eugene Gribble and Lou Zeigler, will leave Saturday for West Point to study for exams in June.

Gribble-Zeigler Leaving

Gribble has been on the championship WPIAL mile relay team for two years and is also a great broad jumper. Gribble, a star halfback in football is one of the greatest athletes to ever complete at New Castle High, being a three-letter man, playing on the varsity basketball team. Zeigler is a lineman in football, being used at end and tackle by Phil Bridenbaugh.

New Castle High is honored at having two from the school and on the same team with a chance to enter West Point.

Coach Nick Thiel's four children—two boys and two girls—are the lacrosse team's top rooters in Penn State.

Baroudi Benefit

Charles-Ray Fight Tonight

By CHARLES EINSTEIN

CHICAGO, May 7.—(INS)—Ezzard Charles and Elmer Ray battle at Chicago stadium tonight for the benefit of themselves, 13,000 fans, and the family of Sam Baroudi. The ill-fated Baroudi fought Charles the last time there was pro boxing at the stadium and died six hours afterwards.

One result of the Baroudi death is tonight's match, actually a rematch of a Madison Square Garden bout last July in which Ray, one of the country's topmost heavyweights, won a decision over Charles, lean Cincinnati light heavy who is ranked as number one contender in his class. Charles has agreed to give $5,000 of his purse to the parents and sisters of the late Baroudi, and promoters Irving Schoenwald and Jack Begun will match that figure.

It is expected they will be able to afford it. Cautiously, they hinted last night that they anticipated "11 or 12 thousand people" and a gate of over $50,000. Since tonight's Ray-Charles 10-round feature is Chicago's best attraction since Graziano dented Zale for the middleweight title 10 months ago, the stadium should be filled and the battle of coin music to the promoters' ears.

Ray will come at 191 pounds and thereby hold a 17-pound weight edge over his foe.

Valley Downs Being Readied For Midget Cars

New Quarter-Mile Speedway in Valley Will Open Racing Schedule in June

BEAVER, Pa., May 7.—The great new quarter-mile speed plant to be known as the Valley Downs Speedway, where the mighty midget racing cars will roar over the steply banked saucer-shaped clay surface, starting early in June, is really a bee-hive of activity these days, as promoter Fred M. Theis, owner and operator, prepares his brain child for the opening gun under official sanction of the Central States Racing Association.

Bleachers Going Up

With fine-grade work already in it's finishing stage, bleachers are under construction which will seat between eight and ten thousand spectators. Crash walls and safety fence will be installed as well as pits for the racing cars and equipment. Parking facilities are being laid out and it is expected that the new Valley Downs Speedway will be one of the finest set-ups in the country for the fast sport.

Big Name Drivers

With many popular drivers of the big cars and the famous chauffeurs of the famed midget circuits, already expressing their desire to "warm up" on the new banked track, Promoter Theis, expects to have one of the greatest fields of entrants for his opener known to these parts.

City Leaguers Await Openers

City baseball league teams held their final pre-season meeting last night at Carm's place, at which time contracts were turned in and preparations made for the loop openers Sunday. Twelve teams will open the card and play a 44-game schedule, with a four-team Shaughnessy play-off for the title.

As in past years, the clubs will tangle on Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday, and a hotly disputed fight for the honors is seen.

JOIN LEGION LEAGUE

West Side Pirates have joined the American Legion Junior league and will conduct a practice session tonight at six o'clock at Boroline field. Any player not reporting tonight will not be given a contract for the 1948 season.

ERIE-BUTLER WIN

The Erie Sailors defeated Gannon college, 16-0, and Butler Yankees trimmed the House of Davids, 4 to 3, in 10 innings in exhibition games played Wednesday. Both Erie and Butler have strong clubs in the Mid-Atlantic loop this year.

Mack's Club Leads League On Five-Game Win Streak

Defeat Cleveland, 8-5 For Top Spot; Feller, Newhouser Shelled; Yanks Top Browns; Senators Victors, Giants End Pirate Skein, 9-2.

By LES CONKLIN

NEW YORK, May 7.—(INS)—Wise old Connie Mack, who has piloted his lightly-regarded Philadelphia Athletics into first place in the American league with five straight wins, must be laughing up his sleeve at the pitching troubles of other major league clubs these days.

While other managers have shelled out huge bonuses for minor league stars or keeping highly-touted, highly-paid veteran hurlers on the payroll, the canny Mr. McGillicuddy has assembled an adequate pitching staff which probably cost him less than $25,000, all told.

Phil Marchildon, Joe Coleman and Dick Fowler, who beat Cleveland 8 to 5 yesterday, all came up from Chicago at bargain rates. The brilliant Carl Sheib had to beg for a chance to work for Mr. Mack. Bill McCahan was grabbed on a sandlot diamond. Lou Brissie and Bob Savage were picked up at institutions of learning.

This economy is in sharp contrast to such cases as the Phillies laying $60,000 on the line for the schoolboy Curt Simmons, who has not made good, and Cleveland paying an undisclosed but undoubtedly enormous sum and giving two players for Will Hafey, Oakland pitcher who had been sought by several major league clubs.

Newhouser Chased

Then there are high-priced veterans like Detroit's Hal Newhouser, who was knocked out of the box in the first inning yesterday and has failed to win half his games since July 30, 1946, and Bob Feller.

Feller has been shelled from the hill in his last two starts. He couldn't stop the A's yesterday even after Ken Keltner had belted a grand-slam homer for the Indians.

Allie Reynolds has been the only consistent pitcher of the Yankees and he was lucky to beat the St. Louis Browns yesterday, 6 to 5, because all the St. Louis players and many fans and other observers thought that Bobby Brown's two-run home, which won the game in the eighth inning, was a foul ball.

The Yanks advanced to second place and Cleveland dropped all the way from first to third.

Four-hit scorless pitching by Hal White enabled Detroit to beat the Boston Red Sox 8 to 3, after the Sox knocked out Newhouser. A fist fight between Birdie Tebbets Boston catcher, and George Vico, Detroit first basement, enlivened this contest.

Post Muffles Bues

Ray Poat of the New York Giants held the Pittsburgh Pirates to four hits and beat them 9 to 2. The two teams now are practically tied for first place in the National league.

All other National league games were washed out.

In a night game Early Wynn of the Washington Senators demonstrated why the Boston Red Sox, New York Yankees and other clubs are angling for him. The big fellow held the White Sox to three hits and blanked them 5 to 0.

The Nats tied the Red Sox for fourth place in the American league.

Bessemer Game Is Called Off

The scheduled Edenburg at Bessemer ball game in the county league for tonight has been postponed by rain and wet grounds, it was announced by Manager Jim Martin. The umpires are to take notice.

DEWEYS DUMP CIVICS

Dewey A. C. clipped the Union Civics last night at Washington field in an exhibition game, 10-2. Altman and Adams did the Dewey hurling and Morrison, Bodurick and Galf twirled for the Civics. J. McCann and Koltz were the heavy hitters for the winners.

Friday night the Deweys will play East Brook at Deshon Annex field.

BELLOISE-HUNTER BOUT POSTPONED

CLEVELAND, May 7.—(INS)—Cleveland's "fight of the decade" was set back a couple of months today because of a broken nose.

Matchmaker Larry Atkins announced that the scheduled return match between middleweights Steve Belloise and Chuck Hunter of Cleveland on May 17 has been cancelled because of the injury suffered by the New Yorker.

Belloise, who lost a much-disputed decision to the Clevelander April 20, had his nose fractured in three places in a sparring bout in his training headquarters in New York two days ago.

PEP AFTER 125TH WIN

DETROIT, May 7.—(INS)—World's Featherweight Champion Willie Pep will bid for his 125th ring victory tonight when he faces Leroy Willis, Detroit lightweight, in a non-title 10-rounder at Olympia stadium.

The Hartford, Conn., titleholder is an odds-on-favorite and many expect him to choose the round to win by a knockout.

Pep's amazing record of ring victories establishes him as one of the greatest fighters ever to hold the 126-pound crown. He lost only once—to Sammy Angott—and was held to a draw by Jimmy McAllister.

Public Will Be Worst Sufferer From Rail Strike

COLUMBUS, O., May 7.—(INS)—A message from officials of the American Lutheran church pleading for public funds to arbitrate the threatened rail strike was on its way to President Truman today.

The Lutherans meeting in Columbus asked church members to pray this Sunday for a solution of the dispute and sent messages to the president and representatives of the railroads and the brotherhoods.

The messages said the public would suffer most from the strike and added:

"No group has any moral right to deprive the general public of essential goods or services in order to gain its own ends."

SHARON GETS TWO NEW BUS ROUTES

SHARON, May 7.—Officials of the Shenango Valley Transportation company announced today that two new bus routes have been opened in the Sharon-Sharpsville area by the company.

Pennsylvania P. U. C. issued temporary certificates to operate the lines on a 60-day basis. The new routes were offered as compromises by the bus company to forestall a PUC probe threatened by the city.
